Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114 was filed in this application after a decision by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences, but before the filing of a Notice of Appeal to the Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit or the commencement of a civil action. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114 and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the appeal has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114 and prosecution in this application has been reopened pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 1/19/10 has been entered.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1 - 2, 5 - 13, 16, 18 - 20 and 22 - 23 are allowed.

Reasons for Allowance

The following is a statement of reasons for indication of allowable subject matter.

The prior art fails to teach or suggest the limitations of:

“said agent device including user-information storage means for storing the ID information, user information regarding the user, and information regarding settlement means held by the user, in association with each other, purchase-instruction receiving means for receiving the first purchase instruction sent from said first purchase instruction sending means, user-information extraction means for searching said user-information storage means for user information based on the ID information of the user which is included in the first purchase-instruction, and extracting corresponding information regarding the user and corresponding information regarding the settlement means, when said purchase-instruction receiving means receives the first purchase instruction, second purchase-instruction sending means for sending, as a second purchase instruction, information regarding the product and being included in the first purchase-instruction received by said purchase-instruction receiving means, and information regarding the user and being extracted by said user-information extraction means, to the merchant site, and settlement requesting means for requesting said settlement device for settling an account for the purchased product, based on the information regarding the product and being included in the first purchase instruction received by said purchase-instruction receiving means and the information regarding the settlement means of the user and being extracted by said user-information extraction means." (as in Claim 1).

Such limitation is present in all independent claims.

It is old and well known in the art to perform online shopping using the Internet, purchasing items from a merchant website and then performing settlement functions for said purchases over the Internet. Furthermore, it is also old and well known in the art to utilize an agent device (e.g. an electronic wallet) to make the purchase and settlement processes easier for the consumer through automatic completion of purchase and settlement functions (e.g. auto-filling shipping instructions; provision of payment account numbers).

The instant application distinguishes from these old and well known practices by incorporating an agent device into the settlement path with the agent device performing the specific functions as claimed,

Koreeda (US Patent 5,890,137) discloses a method/system for online shopping comprising a user device (workstation) connected to a merchant site (shopping mall), and settlement being performed via a settlement device (approval center) and an agent device (service center). (see col. 5, line 33 – col. 6, line 2). Neither this patent, alone nor in combination with others, discloses nor suggests the feature of incorporating an agent device into the settlement path performing the specific functions as claimed.

O'Leary (US Patent 6,609,113) discloses a method/system for online shopping comprising a user device (workstation) connected to a merchant site (merchant website), and settlement being performed via a settlement or agent device (wallet). (see abstract; fig. 2). Neither this patent, alone nor in combination with others, discloses nor suggests the feature of incorporating an agent device into the settlement path performing the specific functions as claimed.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
